

V O L Z – A W A R D 2022

This award will be given every two years for

- the best publication, resulting from a master thesis at the Institute of Ecology and Evolution.
- the best publication, resulting from a dissertation at the Institute of Ecology and Evolution.

Every candidate can apply with one first-author publication arising either from Master or PhD thesis, which was published maximally two years after graduation. The work has to be published, accepted or in press (with a letter of confirmation from the journal) before the closing date for applications. Only publications published 2020 or later are taken into consideration for the Volz-Award 2022. If someone received a Volz-Award once, he/she cannot apply for a second time.

The award is endowed with CHF 500.–

Please send your application until Saturday, 30 April 2022 to
